ABOUT

Pr0xima (Eve Horne) is a Portland-based queer artist carving out her own space in the scene. Her approach to techno embraces the mesmerizing, the irresistible, and the unconventional.

Driven by the variety of ephemeral atmospheres that electronic music can create, her focus is firmly planted in the experience of the dance floor.

Her approach has led to releases on labels including SubSensory Recordings and Intrinsik, alongside performances for Perc Trax at LA's Dirty Epic and SubSensory at Process PDX.

“

There is a modular, almost electroacoustic texture running through [her music]. This approach gives the techno a decidedly innovative edge, as if the sound had been captured on Mars.
